

MyPerfectCreditCard.com Helps College Students Apply for the Cards That Can Build Good Credit Now.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2 /PRNewswire/ -- As American College Students are heading back to campus, many are faced with first-time decisions about applying for credit cards.

MyPerfectCreditCard.com offers them a chance to apply for cards in a way that will establish good credit now, and avoid making choices that will affect credit scores into their future.

Many students on campus are inundated with credit card offers looking to hook students who are inexperienced in the credit card market. Students often apply for cards that may not be offering them the best possible deal. MyPerfectCreditCard.com allows students to get the credit they want to establish easily, and with the confidence that it's the best student credit card available.

To find the ideal card, the site uses an innovative CreditCardFinder to match students with the cards they are eligible to receive, and compares the differences in features and rewards to make sure they have the best combination for their needs.

Features of the MyPerfectCreditCard.com Student Card Program

MyPerfectCreditCard.com offers all the major brands and issuing banks to their visitors, with over 150 different products available including cards geared for students. The proprietary CreditCardFinder asks a few questions of the consumer and instantly provides recommendations. The questions are not personally identifiable, so the student's identity is protected and the card finder's recommendations are driven only by the stated needs and best interests of its customers.

MyPerfectCreditCard.com is the most recent site from Consumer Knowledge Network, dedicated to helping consumers "know the deal" about the products and services they want.
